UNIFYING DATA TO FAST-TRACK SALES THROUGH MARKETING ACTION
JUNE 9, 2020 | 11AM – 12PM CT

By better understanding customers’ journeys and personalizing interactions across channels and media, marketing can utilize campaigns to inform the sales process and empower sales teams with high-value leads.

Accomplishing this means integrating all offline and online marketing data in one place to create a single view of the customers’ behaviors. It also requires new capabilities, including a shift from manual to automated processes in a single system for a data driven environment that fuels analytics and 1:1 customer experiences.
